Common Questions

What is the game?

This is a story shooter game guiding you through the life of one of the most famous and controversial “humans” of our time. You will be going on a journey as Mark Zuckerberg himself. You’ll do some shady things, you may get in trouble, and you may have to clean up some messes. But hey! You’ll make a lot of money while doing it.

Why create this game?

We all have heard things about Mark Zuckerberg. The general consensus is that he’s not a great person, and while we agree we couldn’t come to a true conclusion as to why. We wanted to do research and get to the bottom of what it’s like to be this guy through the generally agreeable lense of reality, irony, and meme. We think we have it, and we’re excited for this storytime.

Where does the game take place?

This game takes place in empty space backed by an image of the current situation Mark Zuckerberg is facing. These backgrounds can provide context for whatever the level’s focus is, whether it be Mark’s mental state, or the consequences of his actions.

What do I control?

You will be controlling only Mark Zuckerberg using arrow keys. You will either be using the spacebar to “shoot” information to some super secret sources or shoot to harm/defeat all that pose a threat to the Metaverse depending on the level.

The blobs you are shooting will spawn endlessly in random places, and the level will be bounded by a time limit or the number of blobs you shoot (for those doing exceptionally well).

What is the main focus?

The main focus of the game is to understand the enigma that is Mark Zuckerberg. Understanding how he conducts himself, screws over people for personal gain, and will never be financially satisfied. We also want to make a statement about that fact that no matter how bad you do the world, nothing will happen to you if you are rich enough.

What's different?

As people who are very well versed in both tech and meme culture, we want to bring people a story that will not only be informative, but also serve as a just-for-fun mockery for a person we do not personally appreciate. While the mechanics are nothing new, the story arcs truly rule the stage with their entertaining gaffs and gripping scenarios.

Weapons

Overview

Depending on the level, Mark Zuckerberg will give to or shoot at the blob to make it go away.

Weapons Details #1

For the first couple levels, the “weapon” is actually user information that Mark is selling to Cambridge Analytica. After Mark provides enough information to the Cambridge Analytica globs, they disappear.

Weapons Details #2

Later levels begin to introduce various threats to the Metaverse which Mark will have to shoot down and destroy. After the blobs run out of lives / take enough damage, they die.

Single-Player Game

Overview

This is a single-player game only. The player will play as Mark Zuckerberg, and will try to destroy as many globs as possible to get the most money.

Story

Mark Zuckerberg does some very shady things to fulfill his gluttonous desire for more and more money. He is willing to do everything and anything. Just when he thought he could get away with it, he was caught! Now he must face the backlash and take steps to wiggle out of his situation while still making bank. He knows that every problem can be solved if he throws enough money at it, grovels, and tries to appear human. Help him get back to his sunscreen and sweet baby rays!

Hours of Gameplay

This game should not take more than 15 minutes to play, though the player is encouraged to play through the game multiple times to try and beat their record for money obtained.

Victory Conditions

The player wins the game if they clear all 5 levels. The victory condition is a combination of considering both the number of globs killed and the amount of time spent in each level. If you end the game with more money than your previous highest profit, then you beat your high-score!
